RECOMMENDATION FOR ENHANCING THE SERVICE LIFE: The retrofitting guidelines were prepared to enhance the building service life for at least 10 years. Even the building's further performance life can be enhanced through periodic maintenance beyond the 10 years. But a primary audit at the interval of 5 years is required to evaluate the performance of the suggested repair scheme. Routine maintenance should be done, and structural distress shouldn't be ignored if such distress appears during the next five-year service life.

CONDITION OF POST REPAIR EXECUTION: It is to be declared that the existing building's performance has been improved through the recommended retrofitting scheme and the quality of repair was found satisfactory during the post-retrofitting survey. After the structural retrofitting the building is structurally adequate and stable in accordance with relevant codes of practices (excluding external overdesigned impact of cyclone, earthquake and overloading stress) and as per the latest National Building code 2015.
